

What Is an Election?

Read and Respond

1. How do campaign committees help presidential candidates get elected?
2. What might have happened in the “Vote Katy!” story if Katy had not asked teachers, students, and the principal for input before making her speech?
3. What would be the advantages and disadvantages if the president were appointed instead of elected?
4. Imagine you have just been elected president. Write a speech accepting the nomination and outlining your plan as president.

Leaders in Our World

In every family, there is a leader or two. Who that leader is changes for each family. Family leaders are meant to take care of everyone. They make sure their families have what they need.

Schools have leaders too. Most school leaders are adults. But students can lead as well. Some students act as safety patrols. Others serve on student councils. These leaders do what they can to make sure schools and students have what they need.
