Title: Wise words from U.S. leaders / Dona Herweck Rice, iCivics.

Description: Huntington Beach, CA : Teacher Created Materials, [2022] |

Series: [iCivics reader] | Includes index. | Audience: Grades 4-6 |

Summary: "Ask not what your country can do for you. The only thing we have to fear is fear itself. Mr. Gorbachev, tear down this wall! So many famous quotes such as these came from American presidents. What they said was wise for their time and wise for today. The words inspire and comfort us, and they celebrate the American spirit now and forever"-- Provided by publisher.

An Amazing Power

There is one thing we all possess that gives us power. It is the power to inspire, comfort, and persuade. It is the power to soothe, excite, and transform. This power is not magical, and it does not cost a penny. It does not lessen or grow weak with use. In fact, the more a person uses the power, the more it grows.

What is this amazing power? It is the power of words! Words are free to anyone who troubles themselves to learn and use them. No matter what a person wants to say, there is a word for it—or a way to put words together to convey any meaning.

Presidents throughout history have used words in powerful ways to make an impact on the nation and the world. And these words have never been forgotten.
