Deadly Dogs

They may look like the family pet, but wild dogs are far from cuddly. Australian wild dogs, or dingoes, are fierce killers. A small dingo pack can take down large prey. The dogs sink their teeth into the throats of cows and kangaroos. Some even attack people. Their favorite human victims are small children.

Big and Bad
The dingo is the largest land predator in Australia.

Tragedy on Fraser Island

The Gage family awoke at their campsite on Australia's Fraser Island. Nine-year-old Clinton set off toward the beach with a friend. The boys did not get far before they sensed trouble. Two wild dogs were closing in on them. The frightened boys began to run, but Clinton tripped and fell. The aggressive dingoes were on him in an instant.

Dingo Country
Fraser Island lies off the eastern coast of Australia. More than 200 dingoes roam the island.
