STORY ONE

THE DARK SIDE

My name is Vijay Sen, I live in a small village located in India. I love to write and read books, I am an established writer and recently published my book "Secret" and I get lots of good reviews. To be a village boy it's very difficult to be a writer. I suffered from great difficulties to achieve this level. Today my books are the best selling books in Indian book market and after I get this type of good review I decided to write about my life story how I become a writer and what are the difficulties that I suffered to achieve this level.

I was born in a village named Mahapur in 4th of May 1982. My Mom is Beni sen and my father is Bikas Sen. My mother is a housewife and my father was a lawyer. Recently he retired from that post. In my childhood I was very shy and different from others. I liked to spend my time to read Nature. From the childhood I wanted to become a famous writer and I was inspired by our many of bengal writer like Satyajit ray, Saratchandra, Bankimchandra, Rabindranath Tagore. But my dream became my addiction and soon it became my tragedy

I always tried to keep myself in studies but always I failed. I don't know what type of pleasure I get from writing but that pleasure make me mad.

I write stories in my different way that I call DSEU(Determine,Search,Engage and Use) way. At first I decide the plot of the story then I searched about it from internet and then I collect data about the plot then at last I use those data in my story. You can say it's my mulmantra.

I started to write stories after my 10th examination. I got success my 10th examination with a great marks. In our country 10th and 12th examination are very important to set our life you can say the result decide our future and what we will do in our future. After 10th examination I got a 3months holyday. In that holiday I started to read stories of many of our renowned bengal writers. As I said from my childhood I like their stores and wanted to become like one of them so it made a great impression on that holiday and I decided to write stores and from that time it all begins.

The stores of mine in that time were very good. One day I decided to show my story to my father and after I told the story to my father he was very happy and very tensed after some time he said to me "Son you have a great writing skill but you have to study and become an engineer. After that day I became very discouraged. But I didn't stop writing stories I wrote new stories. But as a result for all of this I failed to do well in HS examination. And any of our engineer or doctor college didn't give me admission. My father was furious to me at that time and he also became very upset to me because there was no option for me to become an engineer or doctor. But I didn't get upset and write more stories. After completing my graduation in Bengali I published my book online and it got famous. My first story was "Alone". But my dad was not happy he was very upset. From that time I got success in my hand. I was very happy for my success and very sad for my dad. I reached a level in my writing career I started to think was I made the right decision to take the writing as my career? Is it my right decision? I asked it to my soul. And I got the answer "Yes". Because if I took the engineering or something as a life career then I didn't do the job from my soul. So it was a great decision but what about my father he was very upset at me! Sometimes life gives us two choices and we know what we want to take but always there is a dark side.
