A NEW RECORD

A crowd gathers at a racetrack. A Chevrolet Corvette Z06 pulls up to the starting line. The driver wants to test the speed of his new supercar.

He sees the signal and pushes the pedal to the floor. The engine roars as the Z06 accelerates down the track.

The Z06 is soon traveling almost 200 miles (322 kilometers) per hour! The crowd watches the Z06 fly past in a flash. Then the car comes to a stop. The Z06 has run the quarter-mile in under 11 seconds!
