Melbourne's 10 Must-Visit Destinations

1. Royal Exhibition Building:

The Royal Exhibition Building, a remarkable testament to Melbourne's architectural brilliance, was completed in 1880. It holds significant historical value as it hosted the first Australian Parliament in 1901. One of its main attractions lies in its intricately designed interior, which can be admired during various events and exhibitions, including the biennial Melbourne International Flower and Garden Show. To plan your visit accordingly, it is advisable to consult the events calendar for special exhibitions, while keeping in mind that the International Flower and Garden Show typically takes place in March. The opening hours of the building vary depending on the scheduled events but generally run from 10 am to 5 pm. For further information or inquiries, you can contact them at +61 3 9281 8000 or visit their [Official Website] (<https://museumsvictoria.com.au/royalexhibitionbuilding/>).

2. Queen Victoria Market:

Queen Victoria Market, a historic landmark in Melbourne, has been serving as the city's premier open-air market since its establishment in 1878. With a rich history spanning over a century, this vibrant market offers a plethora of attractions for visitors to enjoy.

One of the key attractions of Queen Victoria Market is its diverse range of stalls. From fresh produce to unique souvenirs, there is something for everyone. As you wander through the market, you'll be captivated by the vibrant atmosphere and the enticing aromas emanating from the food court.

To make the most out of your visit, it is recommended to plan your trip accordingly. Wednesdays are particularly special as they offer the Night Market experience, where you can immerse yourself in an enchanting ambiance illuminated by twinkling lights. Alternatively, weekends provide an opportunity to fully immerse yourself in the bustling energy of the market.

When it comes to opening hours, Queen Victoria Market operates from Tuesday to Sunday. On these days, you can explore the market from 6 am until 3 pm. However, if you're looking for an evening adventure filled with culinary delights and live entertainment, don't miss out on Wednesday nights when the Night Market opens its doors from 5 pm until 10 pm.
